We hold our responsibilities to be the development of the intellectual, physical, and social capabilities of the students as a base upon which they can continue to grow as mature, contributing members of a free and democratic society and to instill in them a sense of integrity, direction, and purpose.

At King Philip Regional High School, the students and faculty create one unified community. This community is comparable to a puzzle. It is united and yet made up of many different pieces. The King Philip community is held together by bonds fortified with the spirit, pride and commitment to excellence which KP students possess. At the same time, however, each and every person who attends King Philip is an individual. Everyone contributes a different quality and talent that makes the community unique. At K.P. everyone is made to feel welcome. Each student or faculty member has his own niche. Every person involved with King Philip acts as one piece to the entire puzzle of the community.

「The four different classes also have their own personalities, some thing that makes them special, something that makes them stand out. The freshman class is new, wide-eyed and learning. They are busy with class elections, their first float meetings, and their academic classes. The sophomore class has finally become accustomed to the way of life at KP and is enjoying every minute of it. They look forward to no longer being the youngest at events such as football games, class competition, and pep rallies. The members of the junior class welcome the title of upperclassmen. They are occupied with events such as college fairs and the PSATs. However, they manage to have fun while doing it. The senior class is delighting in being SENIORS. They are the oldest in the school and provide leadership for the rest of the classes. Each member of the class acts as a role model for the whole student body. The senior class is the last piece of the unique King Philip puzzle.

Allison Milld and Kerry McDermott arrive safely, just in time to make it to homeroom. They are happy to be driving instead of taking the bus, and they certainly have a great perk-senior parking.

YOU DON'T SAY

Hilary Hayes and Jillian Roache chat at their lockers before getting books for their first period class. They are in no rush to do anything Homeroom doesn't start for ten minutes.

one piece at a time

THE EARLY BIRD
CATCHES THE WORM

Kristin Kehrmeyer stops and smiles for the camera after dropping her field hockey stuff off in the locker room. She has had quite a successful and fun season. Kristin is already looking forward to playing next fall.

SUNGLASSES REQUIRED! Amy Fennessy and Tina Gagas are always able to brighten up their homerooms with cheerful smiles. They are eagerly awaiting the start of a nother day of classes.

HANGIN' IN THE HALL Ben Sias and Andy Calnan have a quick discussion about their homework from the night before. Homework is one of the usual morning topics of discussion within the halls of KP.

TWO HEADS ARE BETTER THAN ONE
Jen McKay and Jen Brown stop to pose for the camera. They were walking into school from the parking lot when they stopped to talk.

Taking a look at the daily lives of King Philip students.

OH, WHAT A BEAUTIFUL MORNING!

Meghan McHaIe and Kate Allen smile with a breath-taking sunrise behind them. It sets a beautiful backdrop in the early morning sky. What a great way for two friends to start the day together!

Paul Lapierre and Chris Wagner slowly wander toward the school. They both show their school pride by wearing their KP paraphernalia. Also, the boys have a football game after school. Good luck!

AS THE WHEEL TURNS

Amy Smith and Kylee Day work diligently at the wheel in their ceramics class. They take a short breather and smile for the camera. Shortly after, they returned to working the clay.

THE COUNT DOWN BEGINS!

Despina Hamos, Melissa Sharron, Catherine Foley, and Tara Nyborn anxiously await lunch. They pass the time by quietly talking to each other, and wait for the lunch bell to ring.

in the thick of it

ET TU BRUTE?...
Kaitlyn O'Connell,
Stefanie Hayes, Melissa Gray,
Rob Kelly, Marissa Tuohy, Meredith Jones, and
Johanna Krouk gather in their English class. They have just finished reading Julius Caesar, and have decided to call it a day.

PARLEZ-VOUS FRANCAIS? Katie Andreozzi works efficiently in her French class on a test. Tests usually make for a stressful day, and it is good to get them out of the way before lunch.

TALKIN' SPORT STATS Chistopher Gibson, Derek Leavitt, and Mike Rieger are in a deep discussion about their soccer game after school as they await the lunch bell. Hopefully they will win. Good luck boys!

WHERE IS EVERYBODY? Wendy Rukstalis wanders through the hall all by herself, with not a person in sight. Although it didn't look promising, she did make it on time.

Taking a peek at what students do during class time and in lunch.

AN APPLE A DAY

Meghan McHale, Kylee Day, Kristen Hurley, Jenna Menfi, Erin Flynn, Kellie Cronin, Kate Allen, and Jon Pond all relax at the lunch table in the senior section. The food they eat now will provide them with energy for the rest of the day and into the afternoon.

Grace Becker, Tina Gagas, Katie Farren, Courtney Murphy, Kelly Fagan, Kristy Flaherty, and Allison Lodge all take a long drink. It's important to stay hydrated throughout the day. It can keep you alert, and that's good for those long, (dry) classes!

A bus load of juniors returns to King Philip after a field trip to the Newport mansions. This U.S. History field trip is looked forward to all year.

THIRSTY?

finishing off

TEEING OFF
Seniors Kara Murphy and Sarah Gentry take a break from an evening round of mini-golf.

BRRRR...
Rich Chute, Tim Blinten and Josh Gould wait patiently in the cold for their bus to arrive to bring them to soccer practice.

SLURRRRRP!
Wendy Krasnauskas and Briana Short sip their sodas after finishing a meal at a local restaurant. Eating out is something King Philip students enjoy, especially on Scooping ice cream is just one of Chris Mahoney's many talents. Chris manages to squeeze work in with other activities such as playing on the K. P. football team

After school, King Philip students continue their busy schedules with part time jobs and extracurricular activities.

GUESS WHO?
Rhianne Crowley hides behind a pair of glasses while wating with Kellie Cronin to play field hockey.

These freshman boys can't wait to get to their soccer practice.
One day they will be the stars of the varsity team and

UNSUNG SENIURS

The Senior Class, the Class of 2000, has many outstanding students in its midst. Behind the bright personalities and more conventional accomplishments, however, are students who may not be known for what they have done. The Unsung Senior section is dedicated to some of the people in the Class of 2000 who have gone beyond the boundaries to achieve amazing feats. They have experiences and accomplishments that some of us may not understand or know about. They have overcome obstacles without complaint. The puzzle pieces these people represent may not be in the vanguard of the class, but they are an integral part of the millennium puzzle.

Pieces of the puzzle

Tina is also involved in her community where she volunteers as a D.A.R.E. camp counselor and a first grade C.C.D. teacher. Tina had an opportunity to expand her horizons when she was chosen to travel with the People to People Student Ambassadors tol taly, France, and Spain for three wbine her love of Spanish She hopes to

Remember When

Yesterday

by Jen Allen

When boys meant yuck and friends were new dreams were unshattered and worries few

When recess was too short and life too long. decisions came easy without the need to belong

When storks brought babies and passions weren't so strong friendships were unbroken right was right, wrong was wrong

When bad things didn't happen and only skinned knees brought tears the nightlight in its socket quieted all our fears

When farewell meant just for summer and real friends didn't part the fun went on forever and never left a broken heart.

HANGING AROUND (left) Allison Lodge and Leanne Gay have fun climbing a tree. Being neighborhood buddies, Allison and Leanne played together often.

Soccer players, Kylee Day,
Andrea Lyons, Courtney Murphy, and Wendy Rukstalis, show off after a soccer game.

Courtney Murphy and Wendy Rukstalis really liked their thumbs, huh?

Kellie Cronin and Diana Hadfield celebrate their graduation from middle school.

The day was important, but having a friend there made it even more memorable. When thinking back on these times, we laugh a bit more loudly, feel a bit more at ease. For these are the days we look back on as the good old days.

Growing up together can be great fun. However, those annoying class pictures can be awkward. This Norfolk elementary class contains some of the smiling faces we see in the halls today, only a little older.

Remember When...

- the New Kids on the Block were the greatest singers around.
- spandex, scrunched socks, and big crimped hair were such a fashion statement.
- the Smurfs was was the coolest tv show to watch.
- the stop light would turn red whenever the kids in the Norfolk Elementary cafeteria got a little too rowdy.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND (far above)
Jarrod Hagen, Chuck Stone, and his doggy, Luke, enjoy themselves while throwing sticks into the warm sunshine. Sometimes lounging around was as good as playing a game. Go fetch, Luke!!!

DAISY TROOP 202 (above)
Before you go on to being a girl scout, you must cross the bridge...that's what Amy Markopoulos, Kara Murphy, Jill Coates, Jackie Barnaby, Amy McGuire, and fellow daisy trooper are smiling about. They're going to be official girl scouts!!!

THE LAST DAY (far left) Beth Gaetani, Allison Milld, and Kate Allen push back the tears and smile as they brace themselves for junior high. The other tearful time in a student's life comes in June of senior year.

MAY I HAVE THIS DANCE? (above) Jill Coates and Pete Lown leave plenty of room between them at the sixth grade dance.

As we watch each other grow and change into the wonderful and successful people we are destined to become, we will never forget the life-long friendships we have made throughout our childhoods.

Amy Fennessy and Becky Cochrane have been best friends since first grade. They take a break from walking through the fields of PA to eat some McDonald's. They have watched each other grow up and change... especially their hairdos!!!

Remember When?

-the annual kickball competition between the 5th and 6th graders was a HUGE deal.

- every little girl wanted to be Shera, and every little boy wanted to be He-man.
- Circle, circle, dot, dot. Now I've got my cootie shot! was a phrase heard daily in the elementary school.
- everyone wanted to be in a band like Gem and the Rockers.

They say that when you hang around with someone a lot, you begin to look like that person. I guess that's the case with Kelly Fagan and Courtney Murphy who are getting ready to go out for a night of prowling and trick-ortreating.

Everyone remembers the week spent at Camp Bournedale in sixth grade. It was the last time the students of each individual town spent time together before the mixing into the junior high. The Boys' Spring Track Team finished with an overall record of 6-2. They came in second place, just a few points behind their rival, Oliver Ames. The team depended on juniors Aaron Afarian, Chris Wagner, and Kevin Breitenbach to have such a successful season. The dedication of the K.P. team comes from the leadership of Coach Kramer. Coach Kramer has been helping the sprinters for many years as an assistant coach. This year he stepped up as head coach. Though strenuous, his practices got the team ready to win. Looking to the future, he says,

The young team improved greatly and looks forward to next year.

The Girls' Spring Track Team has always been known for their close bonds and their ability to work well as a team.
Erin Johnson summed it up with her observation that,

Spring Track is a large enough community so that we have a group of people with varied talents, yet it is small enough that we know everyone and can all work together as a whole.
All the girls agree that Spring Track provides everyone with the opportunity to shine in their special field, while being considered a member of a loving extended family.

Coach McEachern, the team successfully defeated rivals Stoughton and Foxboro. The team was led by juniors Aaron Bourke and Scott Tooker. Captain Bourke commented on the future of the team.
The team has a lot of young talent and looks forward to iluproving next year and hopefully contending for the Hockomock Championship.

Some people may think our season ended too soon, but we tried hard and did a good job.
The 1999 Baseball Team had an excellent season this year.

Second year head coach Ed Moran led the seniorladen team to a record of 12-4 under the excellent leadership of his captains Dave Elliott, Paul Hasenfus and Mike Griffith. The team had a somewhat successful regular season going 14-6. However, in the playoffs the baseball team caused some real excitement by going through two rounds of the playoffs. They finally lost to Bishop Feehan in a hard-fought defeat. MVP Paul Hasenfus, Unsung Hero Mike Griffith, and seniors Wayne Stokes, Jason Cunnane, Troy Howard, Jim Lorusso, Shaun Foster and Dave Purpura helped lead the team to the playoffs. Next year's captain, Matt Pieroway, had this to say about next year's team:

Our team next year is young, but we have a lot of talent.

Post-Game Plays

Warrior football is the most exciting and most attended event in our school, aside from regular classes, of course After last year's successful season, many people were concerned about how the football team would fare in the league this year. Captain Jesse Keene had this to say about his team's season.

It was a rough start, but we finished strong. Losing our first 3 games was tough, but our last 4 games turned into a winming streak.
As both a captain and a senior Jesse felt there was a lot of progress both on and off the field. Fellow captain and senior Chris Wagner also felt that the varsity team overall had a good season. They played hard despite serious problems, including the loss of a coach. But you would have never known from the way they played the whole season: strong.

Senior Chris Sims believes that the reason the team won the Hockomock was that they never gave up. The boys had an extremely successful season with an overall record of 10-3-3 in the League. No one expected us to compete with Oliver Ames, emphasized Matt Griffith about the team's season, but we played as a team and woon as a team. The team was led by first year Coach Holt and captains

With the return of Head Coach Steve Godbout, the girls had an outstanding year exceeding even their own expectations. The Warriors were led by senior captains Kelly Wardner and Kristen Hurley along with fellow seniors Meghan McHale Heather Blair, and Hilary Hayes. The team cruised into the playoffs with the help of the many underclassmen on the team. Elizabeth Kinney, Judy Cronin, Kate Blair, and Siobhan Howard controlled the offensive side of the ball, ahile Andrea Lyons, Kristy Lamothe and Lydia Helliwell controlled the backfield.

We had an extremely successful season this year. And I'm looking forward to winning the Hockomock Championsliip next year

The hard work at the beginning of the season all paid off in the end.
-Matt Pieroway
The King Philip Boys' Cross-Country Team had a remarkable season. They placed 2nd in the Hockomock with their only loss coming at the hands of Oliver Ames. That loss did not stop their hopes as they went on to win the Division 3 State Championship. The crosscountry team then placed second at the All-State Meet. This was the closest they have ever come to winning the entire state. It is the single most successful boys' season in school history because we won the state title.

My Most Memorable Race
I dig deep zvithiul luy soml, to a place I've never been; I've got to push the pailu azvay, its the ouly zoay to wint. -Allison Milld

Running is a mental game. Not only does one have to have the ability to run, but she has to believe that she can run. As with any sport, sometimes runners want to give up, but it is one's teammates and one's desire to win that keeps one going.

The feelings of unity and pride that are shared by the girls of this team are unique.

Because the $x-c$ team is smaller than most, the girls have an opportunity to really get to know each other. They know each other's high points as well as their weaknesses, and have the ability to use this knowledge in a race. Led by senior captains Grace Becker and Allison Milld, as well as junior co-captain Melissa Mclacklan, the girls form a brick wall in order to defeat their opponents. This method of putting as many people up front as possible and sticking together proved to be successful in races against rivals Oliver Ames and Sharon. But to be champions, a team must also want to win. Losing the Hock title to Oliver Ames last year after a four year winning streak, the '99 team was motivated for a comeback. This season the girls went undefeated, taking back the Hock title and then moving on to place first at the League Meet.

STRIVING FOR EXCELLENCE (right) Pride is visible on the faces of these girls as they accept their ribbons at Borderland Park. The girls placed first at this league meet.

S'MORE CAMP FUN? (below) Over the summer the $x-c$ teams spent a week on the Cape training for the upcoming season. Not only does this opportunity provide for a jump-start on fitness, but also a time for the girls to really become a team

The Boys' Basketball Team met with success this year. The Boys' Basketball Varsity Team this year had to replace a large a number of graduating seniors. Under the leadership of Coach Reddington, the boys worked non-stop on their game skills and also improved their mental game. And so they took what seemed like a handicap and improved so much that they are now a respected and feared team. When facing tough rivals, these players simply play the game and the better team comes out on top. In addition to an impressive varsity team, the basketball program also hosts junior varsity and freshman teams with great potential. Coached by Mr. Skenyon, a former basketball player himself, and Mr. Thomas, these teams are also showing improvement.

This year had a different atmosphere to it. A new head coach and assistant took over at KP this year, but the team found it easy to adapt to the new style. We really went into this season not knowing much of what was going to happen, but we made strides and surprised a lot of people. As a team we get it done, especially with the help of our coaches. This has been one of my best years; all the hard work paid off. -senior Mark Kenney

R

This hockey season was definitely one to be remembered. After losing many starting players to graduation and then losing one of the goalies to injury, the varsity hockey team really had to pull together and prove that they could come out on top. Because ice time is at a premium, the team had to practice in the early morning hours before school. This dedication to the team helped to bring the guys to the point where they knew that they could win any game. As the record shows, the team did an extraordinary job.
With years of experience behind him, head coach Bob Piotti knew his team and how to handle them. His years with KP had brought the team to many victories. Helping him coach were John Carde and Brad MacDonald. These three coaches worked very hard and contributed to the team's success.

The King Philip Gymnastics Team had an unbelievable season. The girls finished off their season with a record of 9-2 which put them in second place in the Hockomock League. They were the only team in the League that beat the otherwise undefeated Canton. The girls also qualified for the MIAA South Sectional Meet for the second year in a row. During the dinner Greg Harris gave a wonderful speech to his class, the Class of 1999.
Every one can agree that the night was a huge success, brought many memories, and a great amount of laughs. It is safe to say that the Prom of '99 was one to go down in the books.

In the Good Old Summertime

Carefree days, endless nights, the only two months straight of nothing, but pure fun in the sun. Beaches to go to, camping galore, and of course, non-stop hanging out with friends. Long days of sunshine that seem to last forever. Ice cream, blueberries from along the road; even our food tastes better. These are just some of the things that make summer some of the best days of our teenage lives.

As we take a glance back at the summer of ' 99 we see some of the silly, yet great, memories we've gathered in the short period of freedom that we have once a year. Many a night we stayed up late at a summer party or at a movie with our summer love, only to get up early to have a beach day with our friends. Many a morning we spend in lazy luxury deciding when to get up to greet the day. And many a day we spent in a too hot sun, ignoring what memories of our health class tells us is a mistake.

From summer camp to hot vacation spots-these were just mere building blocks for the year to follow.

This summer will be unforgettable.

WATER LOGGED (above)
Seniors Rhianne Crowley and Wendy Rukstalis show everyone that just because they're seniors and more mature, doesn't mean they can't have a little summer fun. These girls truly know what summer is all about...swimming, tanning, and spending quality time with friends.

Walking down the halls of King Philip during the first month of school is an exciting event in itself. There is a spirited aura throughout the entire school. The seniors take their first struts down the hall and everyone looks in envy. The juniors, now upperclassmen, see the school in a different light, as more mature members of the community. The sophomores are no longer the youngest in the school and can now join in on the innocent taunting of freshmen. Finally the freshmen come into a new school and enjoy heady experiences such as upperclassmen, cars, and even dating. Then of course, come the normal Friday night outings to cheer on our boys at the football games. The level of school spirit hits new heights.
Although summer is probably the preferred season for most, still September brings some sweet feelings. It is nice to see friends, especially in familiar surroundings. And once again we remember the pride we have in being members of the K.P. community.
We get down to work that has a purpose in our growth.

The crisp autumn days of October were filled with school spirit. The week of October 18 was Spirit Week. On Monday morning everyone was ready to sleep on Pajama Day. Tuesday was Class Color Day Freshmen came dressed in white, sophomores were covered in blue, juniors came fired up in red, and the seniors came proudly in green. On Wednesday temperatures rose with Hawaiian Day. Thursday was a day to go back in time. King Philip was filled with fashion statements from the $50^{\prime}$ s, $60^{\prime}$ s, $70^{\prime}$ 's and the great 80 's. Friday ended the week with Green and Gold Day.

October was an eventful month for many reasons, filled with football games, homecoming floats, and pep rallies. Students got into the spirit by buying links for spirit chains and homecoming flowers. Student pariticipation was high with everyone eager to show their school spirit. The seniors captured the Spirit Cup while the sophomores came in first for their float.

When the KP Football Team woke up on Thanksgiving morning none of them intended on giving up their hard earned trophy to Franklin. These boys were out for a big victory from the start, and a big victory it was. King Philip crushed Franklin with a score of KP 27, Franklin 0!

> We all wanted to win so bad, especially since for most of us, it's our last game ever! -Josh Cooney We worked so hard and just put it all together.

-Andy Croteau

Many King Philip students and alumni showed up to watch the boys play. School pride beamed from the crowd. It certainly was a great way to start off Thanksgiving with a major victory against none other than our rivals! We had a lot to be thankful for that day considering the beautiful weather, a big turkey waiting at home, old friends coming home to visit, and of course yet another King Philip victory under our belts.

If they weren't attending a SADD meeting or a DECA workshop, the students were preparing for their Powder Puff and Thanksgiving Day football games. Once again K. P. was fortunate enough to have an incredible bonfire with tons of people attending to get everyone pumped for the Thanksgiving game.
The seniors had their Senior Supper on November 15 of this month. There they received awards for winning their superlatives. The other classes were busy as well this month with the Ping Pong Tournament held by the sophomores and a Papa Gino's fundraiser held by the juniors.
The whole school continues to have incredible spirit and anxiously awaits the months to come. Winter sports are stating up, dong with Jazz Band and Winter Percussion, all promising to continue the excitement obvious during the month of November

The first day, the ski conditions couldn't have been better with the brilliant sunshine and very fluffy snow. Later that night the kids got to bond by going out to dinner together and watching an amazing aerial show with professional skiers and snowboarders.

The show was amazing to watch.
I couldn't dream about doing the crazy flips those skiers did.

-Dana Shaw

Finally after a long day some kids retreated back to the hotel where they could sit by the fire and chat. Others ventured back into the cold to go sledding.

The second day there was plenty more snow after a night of snowfalling. Up and down, over easy trails and rough terrain, around the moguls and over them we showed all the skills we had leamed in a lifetime in New England. And in the end, we came home tired, but happy

December days brought the spirit of giving to the entire school. Students found themselves engaged in various holiday activities throughout the month.

The National Honor Society set up a fund to donate money to the less fortunate during the stressful holiday season. Keeping with the Christmas theme the actors and actresses of the Drama Club performed the well known play The Miracle on 34th Street.
Also embracing the joy of Christmas, the Senior Class went on its annual trip to the Boys' and Girls' Club of Chelsea. They went with presents and treats for the young children. Those who went were filled with joy to have been a part of this exciting event.
DECA students organized the Battle of the Bands held here at King Philip. This event was a chance for young musicians to come and show off their amazing musical talents. ## The Start of a New Millennium

The days of January brought new excitement to King Philip. On January 5th, KP welcomed back alumni from the previous graduating year to talk about their experiences in college.
During the week of January 10th students in history classes took part in National History Day. This year's theme was Turning Points in History.

On Friday, January 21, the annual Star Day took place. Every student and faculty member was recognized by a star made by the members of the Student Council. This simple activitiy got everyone in the right state of mind for midterms. Midterms, however, started with a delay. The unthinkable happened at KP. A bomb scare caused a 2 hour delay on the last day of classes before the exams. Fortunately it was handled well by everyone, from administrators down to students, and nothing bad happened.
This month also marked the arrival of frigid weather and the first snow for the area in over 300 days. We came to school to take exams 1 and 2, but left early because of bad weather. Exam 3 was delayed the next day because of poor driving conditions. And the final day of exams, the period 7 exam brought us cold temperatures inside the school when the heating system broke down.

On February 14, love was definitely on the minds of the students of King Philip. The halls were filled with the colors of red and pink to represent this lovely holiday. Happy couples were seen throughout school carrying presents of chocolates, flowers and stuffed bears received from their loved ones.
Also the week of the 14 th marked the start of S.A.D.D. week. The events included a chain of life, Pledge Day, White-out Day, and Ribbon Day. It was a great idea to have the whole school become aware of the consequences of drinking and driving and pledge not to become part of it.
The month of February ended with the rare occasion of Leap Day. This day, known as Sadie Hawkins Day, is the oneday whena lady can ask her lovect one tomarry her.

An aura of excitement sets in over the school. People can not wait until the end of the day. The school dance is coming. These dances are a time for all the students to get together and jam to their favorite tunes. Whether it be a D.J. or a local band, the music is always good and people are sure to let loose.

The excitement of getting ready with their friends and showing up in the flashiest trends was definitely the theme of the RAVE dance which took place in October. This dance was held in honor of Homecoming and everyone said it was one of the best of the year.
Dances can also be romantic, as the Sweetheart dance proved. In February, KP students dressed in red and pink and came to the dance in pursuit of a Valentine. The romantic atmosphere provided just the right mood for such a sweet day.

I love going to school dances! I wouldn't miss one for the world!

Driving into the parking lot, one might think that it shows the personality of King Philip. It's the place where friends hang out both before and after school, where the juniors and seniors can show off their new cars with pride, and where students can stake out a familiar parking space. The parking lot is a place where people gather after a winning game and/or competition to celebrate the victory. It is a place where the freshmen and sophomores long to be and where the upperclassmen truly feel older than the rest of the school. The whole school takes pride in it because sooner or later everyone will have their turn there.

As you enter school grounds, the parking lot is the first thing you notice. Before school and after it is alive with excitement, happiness, and friendship. It is the students' number one hangout spot, yet it is only the beginning of what makes King Philip a great school.

The Art Club is an activity at King Philip consisting of weekly meetings mostly run by students. Activities are designed to make art more visible in the school and the club has definitely accomplished this goal. Inspirational quotes and professionally framed student art work now decorate the halls of King Philip. In addition to the permanent gallery in the hallways, the club also runs family art activities. Projects have included haunted houses at Halloween, paper maché turkeys for Thanksgiving centerpieces, and paper maché snowmen and angels for the winter holiday season. The Club also has sold beautiful greeting cards and ceramic pieces.

T'he Pride and the Passion

The fall of 1999 saw the end of a season, a decade, and an era. As the season closed the marching band once again held its trophy high. In the United States Scholastic Band Association Competition, in Giant's Stadium, KP captured the Division 3 Open title for the second year in a row, winning the best music, best marching, best percussion, best effect, and best auxiliary captions. This was another laurel to add to the crown, along with one earned earlier in the season. At the Bands of America Northeast Regional Competition, a national competitive organization, KP tested the waters going up against bands twice its size. It walked away with top honors in Division AA and second overall. The KP Marching Band is truly the Band of the Decade. It has won a circuit championship every year of the 90 's. Next year this ambitious group plans to travel to Indianapolis to compete in Grand National Championships.

Everyday at school two other groups meet to practice. The Symphony Band and the KP Chorus work everyday to achieve excellence. The Symphony Band was selected to play in Symphony Hall this past April after earning its eighth gold medal at the Massachusetts Instrumental Choral and Conductors' Association State Concert Festival. The band can also be heard playing concerts on the common, pops nights, and other events around the three towns. The chorus is no less important. Ever since its inception four years ago the group has grown each year. It, too, has performed at MICCA and can also be heard at the pops concerts and other local happenings.

The King Philip Regional Jazz Ensemble is another talented group of students. The KP Jazz has won numerous awards and honors for its excellence. Each year the Jazz wins top honors at the UNH Jazz Festival along with individual awards for its talented musicians. It has also received eight gold medals at the State IAJE Finals in the past years.

Continuing the prestigious KP tradition is the nationally known Winter Percussion Ensemble. Composed of just the percussive students, this small group of students is known across the country for its commmitment to excellence. Its past awards include gold medals at the New England Scholastic Band Association and two silver medals in Winter Guard International's Scholastic World Class.

The KP Winter Guard is another great program of the music department. This year the Guard was divided by experience into two groups. The $A$ Guard will travel to Dayton, Ohio to participate in World Championships. Because of its superior artistry in dance, flagwork, and weaponry, the KP Winter Guard has won impressive awards in the New England Scholastic Band Association and has represented the school well many times at world championships.

The King Philip music program is a myriad of programs co-ordinated and managed through the efforts of Mr. Tileston, the music director. Winning does not come easily to the musicians involved. Each and every member puts all of his or her heart into each performance. The dedication and sacrifice made by every student is repaid by the growth and personal accomplishment achieved at the end of this long road. Laughter is heard and tears are wept. Whether victory or defeat is the outcome of the scores, there is only room for success in the hearts and minds of the musicians. Thanks to the efforts of its teachers, students, and other supporters, the KP music program is known for its past and present excellence in everything it does.

Winter Percussion

The King Philip Winter Percussion Ensemble consists of many hard working and dedicated students. They practice long, hard hours and are always ready and willing to play some more! The group is full of friendliness and support; after all, they are more than just members. These kids are almost family. Percussion spends weeks and months practicing for their performances. Because of their dedication and determination anyone who goes to their performance is guaranteed an impressive show. Their work is also reflected in their incredible competitive achievements.

They practice spinning flags, tossing sabres and rifles, and getting their timing absolutely perfect. They are taught by professionals from Boston who choreograph every step, every movement, and every position each girl takes. The members of the team are all good friends and are iruly supportive of one another. Sophomore Lauren Mulcahy says, This year the team was made up of many newo girls, but we all pulled together to make this year one of our best! The group has been to many different competitions and won many awards. Each year these amazing girls impress their audience even more.

The DECA program at King Philip is one of the best in the area. It provides preparation for the business world by the use of role playing and real life responsibilities. The juniors and seniors who participate in this class run the school store and bank during lunch. Competition is another component of the DECA class. Because of the hard work of the members and advisor, Mr. Guillemette, KP DECA rarely goes home with fewer than 36 awards and almost always half of the members gain the right to compete nationally. This year the students have already traveled to Baltimore to attend an educational conference. They also competed in Kentucky for national awards.

DECA

The Photography Club was started this year by Mr. Cormier with help from Mr. Hosford. Immediately, students from all grades showed interest and the club began. The purpose of the organization was to help kids develop their interests in photography. Mr. Cormier teaches how to use the right angles to get the perfect shot, how to purchase the right film, and when to use the zoom. He also teaches students to develop their own film. Throughout the week, members snap pictures and then bring them to their meetings on Mondays to share with everyone. The club already has a diverse selection of exciting pictures. Next year they hope to interest even more students in this great hobby

Members gather after school every Tuesday and discuss issues dealing with this topic, such as racial and ethnic issues. They also attend conferences where they learn ways to encourage equality, both in school and the outside world. Miss Bremer is the club's advisor. Her leadership has helped strengthen the club's cause. In the future, the Diversity Club will continue to stand by their beliefs and help everyone at King Philip feel like they fit in.

Elizabeth Flannery, Tim Mele, Hilary Hayes, and Matt Murphy starred. All the profits of Miracle oll $34 t h$ Street went to charity. The Drama Club also performed Arsenic and Old Lace, which was the senior-directed play, and Inherit the Wind. ## AN EXERCISE IN GOVERNMENT:  Boys' and Girls' State

Every year, high school juniors from every town in Massachusetts are invited to participate in a week-long state government conference sponsored by the American Legion. Each local Legion has the option to select and interview possible delegates to be sent to the conference. This year Boys' State was held at Stonehill College while Girls' State was held at Mt. Holyoke College. Those chosen to be delegates traveled to their respective colleges and met with other high school students from across the state. Forming individual towns from groups of students, the representatives were presented with legislative scenarios to be resolved through electing officials and debating possible solutions.

I learned a lot about how my town works, and now know it's not so easy, even for a small community like Plainville.
-John King

Girls' State was held this year at Mt. Holyoke College. Hilary Hayes, Wendy Rukstalis, and Kelly Wardner were the delegates from Norfolk Wrentham.

Boys' and Girls' State have the following objectives: to develop leadership and pride in American citizenship, to arouse a keen interest in the detailed study of government, to develop in the young citizens of Boys' and Girls' State a full understanding of our American traditions and belief in the United States of America, to arouse in the young citizens a determination to maintain our form of government, to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state, and nation, and to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom, and democracy.

Once the student has achieved this honorable position he or she is then given a key. The key enables the student to gain free admission to school functions such as sporting events, school dances, drama performances, and art gallery openings. Very few students achieve this honor and those who do should be given recognition.

Leo Clurb

The Leo Club is dedicated to serving the community in as many ways as it can. Members have organized food and clothing drives, gathered vases of flowers for the Celeste Home, held Christmas parties for the elderly, assisted clients at Wrentham State School, cleaned Trout Pond, and held dances for elementary students and senior citizens.

Each year, a group of juniors and seniors are selected by a board of teachers to become members of the National Honor Society. Being selected is not easy, as acceptance is based on a number of factors including academic excellence, leadership, community service, and character. Once accepted, students commit themselves to hours of volunteer work. Throughout the past year, they have participated in many activities such as Christmas caroling at nursing homes, helping out at elementary schools, and picking up litter on the highways. It is important to each member to impact the community in a positive way. It isn't always easy to spend hours volunteering, bnt it is rewarding to know that I am making a difference, says junior member Heather Lanagan. I worked lard to be accepted, and I will continue to give my all and help out.

Meetings are not only a good opportunity to get a lot of work done, but also a time to interact with your friends

Peer Leadership is a club that promotes drug-free living. Members participate in a variety of activities such as sponsoring a 6 th grade fun night and exchanging pen pal letters with 6th graders. They also go to the Wrentham, Norfolk, and Plainville elementary schools to answer questions from the 5 th and 6 th graders participating in the DARE program. The goal of Peer Leadership is to show elementary and junior high students that it's easy to have fun without using drugs or alcohol. KP's Peer Leaders do just that; they lead the community to healthier living.

Sachem

Sachem is King Philip's art and literary magazine. It is published twice a year and consists of works of art and poetry submitted by students and faculty. Members of Sachem edit and produce the entire magazine and also spend meetings writing and sketching work to submit. They raise money for publication by holding a flower sale each February. Each spring, Sachem members attend Quabbin, an annual writing conference where they take poetry workshops and share their work with writers from other schools. Sachem's advisor is Mrs. Villiard, who has been in charge of the club for years. Her love of the creative arts, along with her helpful input, make the publication of Sachem possible.

Co-presidents are Courtney Howard and Melissa Bell. Shannon Ober was elected as vice-president and Kerry Feeney as treasurer. Maggie Casey serves as secretary. The group has attended a SADD conference where they learned new techniques to reach students with their message. SADD has also tied red ribbons on students' cars to promote safe decisions. ## Stri Chub

The Ski Club is comprised of a large group of students who share an interest in skiing. Each winter, the club goes on two weekend ski trips. This year they traveled to Sunday River in January, and Sugarloaf in March. Ski trips are very popular events, and the sign-up lists are always filled up to the maximum within two days. The students who attend always have a blast skiing and snowboarding. One of the best parts of going on the trip is hanging out with friends. No matter which mountain they are at, there is always something to do at night: dine out, sit by the fire, sit in the hot tub, play ping pong, or trashbag sled on the mountain. The advisors are Mrs. N. Tower and Mrs. Sullivan. Thanks to them, everyone who attends each trip is ensured a fun-filled, well-organized weekend.

Their main purpose is to provide correct lighting and sound effects for the plays put on by the Drama Club. G.A.P.S. builds, paints, and maintains the sets of each and every production. During performances they help to get the actors on and off the stage at the correct times and help to make the productions go smoothly. They also provide town meetings, assemblies, inductions, and speakers with light and sound. These guys really know their technology and without them we would be in the dark-literally.

Metacomet is King Philip's very own newspaper that allows students to express their opinions and read about what's been going on around the school. The small group consists of Matthew Murphy, Kate Reidel, Michelle Matz, Michelle Wood and is run by Mrs. Melendy. Metacomet meets every Tuesday to discuss and type their articles. The club reports on many of the happenings at school such as the Battle of the Bands, a play, or a big win for an athletic team. The newspaper includes a section where students can buy a space and send their friends messages. They also honor teachers and students who deserve recognition.

Putting the Pieces Together

Coming to King Philip this year has been an experience not unlike the theme of the yearbook. The first two months have been a time of identifying all the pieces that make up the essence of this high school and then trying to put the pieces together. The first challenge, of course, has been learning about all of the people. Getting to know almost a thousand staff and students is indeed a daunting task! I feel that over the course of the year I have been able to become aquainted with the faculty and most students. Along with the people, an early piece of this experience has been finding my way around the building. Although I set out with a map on one of my first days at the end of August, small passageways are still revealed to me. In addition to these two major pieces have been the components of curriculum, MCAS, and sports. Putting all the pieces of King Philip together will not be completed for a very long time.

Kylee Day

So having a little sister was not so bad after all. It was actually a whole lot of fun. Without you who would I have played with, laughed with, fought with, and cried with? So we had our bad times, but of course we always remembered to have our good tumes (riding roller racers, making up dances, and, of course, making fun of the folks and causing trouble-it was definitely fun having a partner in crime!) I hope I gave you some what of a good example before I left, for your last three years in high school. Sorry I was not there to share them with you and help you along the way - but it looks like you managed yourself anyway! You have potential Kyky. Just be smart and determined and clean your room and you will become another foxy in no time!!!! haha!

Jayme Fitzgibbons has been roller skating for most of her life. Her determination and natural skills paid off earlier this year when she traveled to Australia to compete for the world championshiptitle. Aftermonths and years of training, countless costumes, and a trip halfway around the world, Jayme and her pairs partner, Philip Gilpin, captured second place in the world. This is a lifetime accomplishment achieved by Jayme at the young age of seventeen.

Katie Prevost has grown up in many different countries. She began traveling at only a few months old and now spends many of her vacations in foreign countries such as Swaziland, India, Norway, and Portugal. Her travels have taken her to each continent of the world. Here she is pictured in South Africa with a young native boy. Katie's favorite place so far was Greece.

A Night to Remember

Becky Pelrine poses with her prom date last year. Her dress was the creation of a person with great artistic talent-herself. Becky designed exactly what she wanted and made it out of a piece of deep red satin and a delicate lace. She looked gorgeous and saved money besides.

Our Future

D.E.C.A. is an association of marketing students who create projects for competition. Two juniors who have excelled both academically and creatively are Scott Maloney and Jennifer McKay. Both have earned first and second places in district competitions and have been nominated to runforstate offices. Next year should find them achieving even more.

The Last Piece?

And so the Class of 2000 now enters the history of King Philip. We waited so long for you, just to see how different you would be from the other forty classes that have been graduated since the beginning of our school. And you are different! You are the most hyped class of the century. Every night a news program would describe this incredible class-what you did for fun, how you learned, but most important, what your future looked like. We all agree that you are going into a future that will be infinitely different from the one that most of your parents, neighbors, and teachers have experienced. You have technology at your fingertips that wassci fi when we were young. You have many more doors open to you than we ever had. But in another sense, you're not that much different from those of us who left school in the $60 \mathrm{~s}, 70 \mathrm{~s}$, and 80 s . Some of you are ecstatic, some are nervous, and some are just plain curious about what the future holds for you. All we can do is to wish you the same luck and offer the same advice that our parents wished us. Be good, be happy, don't close any doors on yourselves, and be the people we know you are.

Our Thanks

The last piece is always a thank you. To our new administrators, Mr. Levine and Mrs. Hanson, who tested our mettle in the fall, but always had our best interests at heart. To our company representative, Arnie Lohman, who didn't flinch when we thanked him for the extra deadline we thought the company had given us. To our North Carolina representative, Kristen Ellerbe, who has the most charming accent and an eye that misses nothing. To Rick Brooks, our artist who flies in from West Virginia to design the cover and amazes us with his talents. To Joe and Gary Geoffroy who make us look so good in our photos. To the businesses who support us with their ads. To the parents who send us such darling pictures of their beautiful children, with messages that stir the heart. To the faculty and student body of King Philip for being so flexible, so often.

Thank you! Thank you! Thank you!!!
But to the class that produced this book, thanks is not enough. You worked through afternoons to get every name spelled right and every picture measured correctly. You suffered through my stress and bad humor in class without complaint. You went to evening and weekend events you really weren't a part of and took pictures, even though some people were less than nice to you. You were persistent when adults failed you or complained that they were too busy to help. You smiled and laughed and ate candy non-stop. This was the class that makes teaching so rewarding.

You were fun. You cared. You looked out for each other. You were the best.
And I'll miss you.
Miss Coutu

The Details

The 2000 Chieftain, King Philip's Yearbook, contains 306 pages. We will also be producing a Spring Supplement. Printed by Jostens in WinstonSalem, North Carolina, the book has a gloss lithograph cover with gold dust foil. The inside back cover contains a picture of the Class of 2000 taken in the football stands in October, 1999.

All type and graphics were produced on Apple Macintosh computers located in the Media Center, room 217, and at the advisor's home. Artwork was scanned into the computers using two Hewlett Packard ScanJets. Page layout was done using Pagemaker 6.5 and Yeartech, a Josten's product.

We used the font Improv for our titles and as an accent type. The rest of the book was printed in Palatino, 8 point for most captions and 10 to 12 point for stories. The baby ads were printed in Times-just to be different. We used a special paper for the senior section, #90 Lustre, and did the rest of the book in an equally elegant #80 Gloss.

Students at King Philip not only get a great education in school, but out of school as well. This year many field trips were taken in a variety of classes and clubs. Each field trip was a way of expanding the students' minds outside of the typical classroom, whether it was by watching a play, doing a lab, visiting a mansion, or helping someone in need.

2000

The ceremony ran smoothly throughout the afternoon. Briana Short, President of Student Council, started with the Pledge of Allegiance. Later on she accepted the King Philip Cup.
The Valedictorian was Jaclyn Murphy. The Salutatorians were Heather Blair and Hilary Hayes All three of these girls gave wonderful speeches weaving lessons of the future into stories of the past.

People who helped this class along the way were also acknowledged. The President of the Class, Desiree Bliss, V. P., Tricia Dunne, Secretary, Jillian Coates, and Treasurer, Hilary Hayes worked hard to make their class united and their hard work was finally recognized. Also, Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Harrington were presented with presents as tokens of appreciation for dealing with all the troubles that class advisors have to deal with.
All in all, the Class of 2000 will always be a special part of King Philip Regional High School and they will be missed greatly!

When I think abour the seven years at King Philip Regional High School, I think of the many hardworking, delightful students I have known during this time. It has been a pleasure to work with these outstanding students and with the excellent faculty at this school. My plans for the future include traveling, reading, walking, cooking, and gardening. I'm especially excited about an Australian cruise my husband and I are planning to take withm the next few years. The thirty years Have spent as a toacher have gone by in the blink of an eye. ## A Goodbye Message

Well, what can I say? I'll miss all of you guys? And even this funny habit of yours with those passes that make you feel like you were in a high security section af NASA. But now, seriously, this year was just awesome. One part was the first basketball season of my life. Thanks to all of you who kept encouraging me when I was completely confused again by some sont of scamble or any other part of practice, and even in games when I was running around like crazy amd sometimes still wasn't where I was supposed to be. Thanks to all of you who made this season so great! I loved it! And the next award goes to... the Drama Club. I just love all of youguys. I'll always remember all our rehearsals, which usually never started on time. It was so much fun! I even got to eat my first candy cane. Yum! I got to know that it's okay to be a thespian, but not only that! I don't know what I'd have done without you! You were my life! And thanks for the bear, perfect job Mr. P! You're the best! The club that lit up all my Tuesdays, what came to be my favorite day of the week, was the Diversity Club. I really loved the meetings. I'll never forget out feld trips and especially one Siturday, May 20th, the Gay/Stmight Youth Pride March in Boston. That was one of the happiest days of my life! Thank you so much! But now it's time for me to pack my bags and head back for Switzerland, and believe me, it's not Sweden, it's Switzerland! Thanks and bye everybody. I'll miss you?

Sandra Unterhollenberg (U'Berg)
